

Vision by Wendy Milette

Imagine the world is sparkling new,
the oceans are clean the air we breath too.
People are caring for the earth again,
memories of wisdom once forgotten.

Rainforests are thriving,
the animals are surviving,
there's nothing we can't see in our minds.

I see the ozone all healed up
I see new cars that don't pollute
Canyons without freeways
I see rain - no more drought.

I see a new world where people care again,
remembering forgotten dreams of paradise.

I see a new world where love rules over all
and boundaries seem to fall.
The world is filled with singing.
Hallelujah Hallelujah Hallelujah

Share my vision with me,
a world where all are free.
The earth is singing its in our souls ringing
Open your heart and set yourself free.
Hallelujah Hallelujah Hallelujah

People in every nation,
having all they need.
Love pouring out into all hearts,
healing suffering and greed.

I see a new world where people care again,
remembering forgotten dreams of paradise.
I see a new world where love rules over all
and boundaries seem to fall
the world is filled with singing.
Hallelujah Hallelujah Hallelujah Hallelujah
